

ABORIGINAL AFFAIRS VICTORIA MINI POSTER SERIES

ABORIGINAL SCARRED TREES

What are Scarred Trees?
Scarred trees are trees that have been cut or damaged by Aboriginal people for various reasons, such as to mark a site, to create a shelter, or to provide food and medicine.

Where are Scarred Trees Found?
Scarred trees are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Scarred trees provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL MOUNDS

What are Aboriginal Mounds?
Aboriginal mounds are artificial structures built by Aboriginal people for various purposes, such as for shelter, storage, or as a marker.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal mounds are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal mounds provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL FRESHWATER MIDDENS

What are M middens?
M middens are artificial structures built by Aboriginal people for various purposes, such as for shelter, storage, or as a marker.

Where are They Found?
M middens are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
M middens provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL FLAKED STONE TOOLS

What are Aboriginal Flaked Stone Tools?
Aboriginal flaked stone tools are tools made from stone that has been flaked into various shapes, such as spears, axes, and knives.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal flaked stone tools are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal flaked stone tools provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL BURIALS

What are Aboriginal Burials?
Aboriginal burials are the remains of Aboriginal people, often found in mounds or other structures.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal burials are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal burials provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL SCATTERS

What are Aboriginal Scatters?
Aboriginal scatters are areas where Aboriginal people have left behind various items, such as tools, weapons, and food.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal scatters are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal scatters provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL QUARRIES

What is an Aboriginal Quarry?
An Aboriginal quarry is a site where Aboriginal people have extracted stone for various purposes, such as for tools and weapons.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal quarries are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal quarries provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL GROUND-EDGE AXES

What are Aboriginal Ground-Edge Axes?
Aboriginal ground-edge axes are axes made from stone that has been ground to a sharp edge.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal ground-edge axes are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal ground-edge axes provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL GRINDING STONES

What are Aboriginal Grinding Stones?
Aboriginal grinding stones are stones used by Aboriginal people for grinding food and other materials.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal grinding stones are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal grinding stones provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL STONE ARRANGEMENTS

What are Aboriginal Stone Arrangements?
Aboriginal stone arrangements are structures made from stones, often used for various purposes, such as for shelter or as a marker.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal stone arrangements are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal stone arrangements provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL SITES ON PRIVATE PROPERTY

What are Aboriginal Sites on Private Property?
Aboriginal sites on private property are sites where Aboriginal people have lived or worked, often on land that is now privately owned.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal sites on private property are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal sites on private property provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL AXE-GRINDING GROOVES

What are Aboriginal Axe-Grinding Grooves?
Aboriginal axe-grinding grooves are grooves made in stone, used for grinding the edges of axes.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal axe-grinding grooves are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal axe-grinding grooves provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL COASTAL SHELL MIDDENS

What are Aboriginal Coastal Shell Middens?
Aboriginal coastal shell middens are mounds of shell and other debris, often found on the coast.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal coastal shell middens are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal coastal shell middens provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL ROCK ART

What are Aboriginal Rock Art?
Aboriginal rock art is art made on rock, often in the form of paintings or engravings.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal rock art is found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal rock art provides valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

ABORIGINAL HISTORICAL PLACES

What are Aboriginal Historical Places?
Aboriginal historical places are sites where Aboriginal people have lived or worked, often in the past.

Where are They Found?
Aboriginal historical places are found all over Victoria, particularly in the coastal and inland regions.

What do they tell us?
Aboriginal historical places provide valuable information about the history and culture of Aboriginal people in Victoria.

The A4 size mini-posters shown are available free of charge from:

The Heritage Registrar
Aboriginal Affairs Victoria
PO Box 2392
Melbourne VIC 3001

Telephone: 1800 762 003
Website: www.dpcc.vic.gov.au/auv